the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in the United Kingdom (Meltzer and Peck 1998). The prevalence of schizophrenia in the United Kingdom is estimated to be 1.2% (Meltzer and Peck 1998).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The United Kingdom has a number of government departments and agencies that are responsible for the care of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health is responsible for the overall policy and funding of mental health services. The Department of Social Security is responsible for the provision of social security benefits to people with mental health problems. The Department of the Environment is responsible for the provision of housing and other social services to people with mental health problems.

The National Health Service (NHS) is responsible for the provision of mental health services. The NHS is a public body that is funded by the government. The NHS is responsible for the provision of a wide range of mental health services, including community mental health teams, inpatient services, and out-patient services. The NHS is also responsible for the provision of mental health services to people with learning disabilities.

The Mental Health Act 1983 is the primary legislation governing the care of people with mental health problems in the United Kingdom. The Act sets out the powers of the courts and the powers of the Secretary of State. The Act also sets out the powers of the Mental Health Review Board. The Mental Health Review Board is an independent body that is responsible for the supervision of people with mental health problems who are subject to a compulsory treatment order.

The Mental Health Act 1983 has been amended a number of times. The most recent amendment was the Mental Health Act 2003. The 2003 Act introduced a number of changes to the 1983 Act, including the introduction of a new compulsory treatment order. The 2003 Act also introduced a new system of supervision for people with mental health problems who are subject to a compulsory treatment order.

The Mental Health Act 2003 has been widely criticized. Critics have argued that the 2003 Act is too restrictive and that it does not provide enough protection for people with mental health problems. Critics have also argued that the 2003 Act is too complex and that it is difficult to understand. Critics have also argued that the 2003 Act is too expensive and that it is not cost-effective.

FOREWORD

Students, put away your school books for a while and enjoy reading through this production of the class of 1945.

Face up your troubles in your old kit bag, for we have chosen as the theme of our annual, humor.

DEDICATION

We, the class of '48,
dedicate this annual to World
Peace and to the hope that Lowell High will be a contributing factor in producing better citizens of Tomorrow.

the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in the United Kingdom (Meltzer 1996). The prevalence of schizophrenia in the United Kingdom is estimated to be 1.2% (Meltzer 1996).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The United Kingdom has a number of government departments and agencies that are responsible for the care of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health is responsible for the overall policy and strategy for mental health care. The Department of Social Security is responsible for the provision of social security benefits to people with mental health problems. The Department of the Environment is responsible for the provision of housing and social services to people with mental health problems.

The Department of Health has a number of initiatives to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Mental Health Act 1983 was amended in 1995 to give people with mental health problems more rights. The Mental Health Act 1995 gave people with mental health problems the right to refuse treatment. The Mental Health Act 1995 also gave people with mental health problems the right to be consulted about their care. The Mental Health Act 1995 also gave people with mental health problems the right to be consulted about their discharge.

The Department of Social Security has a number of initiatives to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Social Security Act 1998 gave people with mental health problems the right to be consulted about their care. The Social Security Act 1998 also gave people with mental health problems the right to be consulted about their discharge. The Social Security Act 1998 also gave people with mental health problems the right to be consulted about their treatment.

The Department of the Environment has a number of initiatives to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Housing Act 1996 gave people with mental health problems the right to be consulted about their care. The Housing Act 1996 also gave people with mental health problems the right to be consulted about their discharge. The Housing Act 1996 also gave people with mental health problems the right to be consulted about their treatment.

FACTS AND FANCIES FROM THE FACULTY

Mary Frances Baughman's pet peeve is an annual which is not a student's affair. She has an A.B. from Indiana State Teachers College and has done graduate work at I. U.

Our Principal, Mr. Brannock, likes to fish, hunt, play golf and try to keep people happy. He enjoys reading as a pastime and his favorite saying is "Oh, boy"; cold weather is his pet peeve and "Spring" and "Fall" his favorite season. Asked why he chose the teaching profession he replied, "Like so many people, I believe I drifted into the profession during the depression. However, since my grandfather was a "saddle bag" preacher, I may have inherited some of his vocational interest in liking to work with people." Mr. Brannock has a BS and MS in education plus additional graduate work.

Mary Kay Burgman's hobby is collecting souvenirs and snapshots while she has so many pastimes she is never without anything to do. Childhood camping experiences led her to the teaching profession. As to a favorite season she claims she wouldn't want any one season all the time. Miss Burgman has a BS in Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. If asked what her pet peeve is, she reaffirms to us that, of course, it is gum smacking.

Frieda L. Cook had always wanted to be an Art Teacher and that is probably why most of hobbies are along that line. She has knowledge of several crafts and likes to collect book match covers to give to those people who collect book match covers as a hobby. "Well-migosh" is her favorite saying and Spring her favorite season, while her pet peeve is too pretty to mention. For pastime she bowls, likes to drive, or play pinochle. Miss Cook has a BS in special Art Education and graduate work.

Leonard Clay Cundiff likes summer the best and of course we can guess why. He has a BS in Agriculture and chose teaching because he likes to work with young people. His favorite pastimes are working with young people and his hobbies, which are raising guinea pigs, collecting dolls and military shoulder patches, making jigsaw puzzles, collecting china, glass, wooden and plastic rabbits. "Greetings!" is issued often as his favorite saying and students who say they are not going to do something are his pet peeve.

Keith DuBois likes sports in season and horseback riding. He informs us that his favorite season is fall. He chose teaching because he liked to work with young people and has a BS. "Coach's" motto is "Do what you have to do when it ought to be done." People who never "kid" or "joke" are his pet peeve.

George E. Ham's favorite saying is "Get ready for a ten-minute test," much to his pupils' disgust. Mr. Ham received his AB at DePauw with graduate work at Iowa University. His hobbies are reading, sports and music, and the favorite season is fall. As a last resort he accepted a teaching position during the depression—but his teaching has taught him there is no more satisfying work. Mr. Ham dislikes having pet peeves.

Gladys Hetherington admits her favorite pastime is reading and that fall is her favorite season. Queried as to why she chose the teaching profession, she answered simply, "I like it" being the possessor of a calm, cool nature she has no pet peeve which is a great asset in her profession. Mrs. Hetherington has an AB and is doing graduate work at the University of Minnesota.

W. Theodore Jones' favorite pastime is his son Bobby. "Take care" is his favorite saying but his pupils think "Ready now! One, two, three, four" is more characteristic of him. For a hobby he collects items and his favorite season is spring. To create enjoyment in making good music is his reason for choosing the teaching profession and students who won't practice are his pet peeves. Mr. Jones has a BPSM.

Michael A. Milakovic likes to relax. His favorite season is Fall and his favorite saying is "let's get organized." Of course we can understand this. He also likes to bowl and fish. He has a BS.

George Robb sanctions that "A rolling stone gathers no moss." The failure of people to exercise voting privileges in any democratic society is his pet peeve. Mr. Robb informs us that it was one of three choices--medicine, law or teaching that would be his profession but as teachers' training required less capital it was chosen. He also enjoys the work. Spring is his favorite season and he likes to read, fish, hunt, shoot (trap and target) and shoot archery. He has a BS and is working towards his MS.

Mary M. Sisson's favorite pastime is Senior Activities. She chose the teaching profession because she liked her freshman Algebra teacher very much. Her favorite season is spring and pet peeve is gum chewers and unnecessary talking in study hall. Mrs. Sisson has a BS.

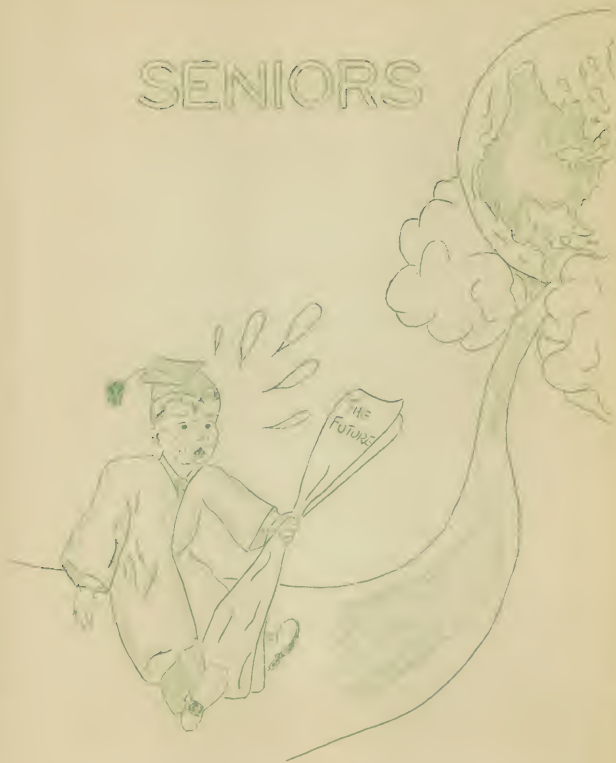

Marquerite Jeanne Steelhammer's main interest is St. Louis. (Wonder Why.) She likes to work with people--especially young people--and can be heard saying "Fuddydud" any day. Bubble gum is her pet peeve. Late spring and early fall are her favorite seasons and she likes to knit, sew, dance and go to concerts. Miss Steelhammer has a BS.

Geraldine F. Thompson has an AB and an MA in English.

Arlene LaMotte Vandermark likes to knit and play golf. Right along with golf, sand traps on golf courses are her pet peeves. Her daughter, little TonJo, happily consumes most of her out-of-school time. Mrs. Vandermark also likes to play bridge and decides that summer and spring are her favorite seasons. She chose the teaching profession because she thought she would like it which she does. She has a BS.

Mary Alice Wilcox finds that collecting and checking papers has enveloped into her hobby. To idle away her leisure time she enjoys reading and attending movies. Although her weekends are usually pretty well taken up with classes in Hammond and visits to Chicago or Indianapolis. She maintains that fall is her favorite season. She chose teaching as her career because she "likes to fuss with the kids". Miss Wilcox has an AB and will receive her MA June, 1948.

SENIORS

SENIOR HISTORY

Eighty-nine seniors flocked into the halls of Lowell High in September of 1947. Aiming toward their goal of reaching Washington D.C. they started by sponsoring a paper drive which netted them eighty-seven dollars. A candy stand was soon set up in the hall and weekly sales from this concession added greatly to their finances. Additional scrap and paper drives held throughout the year also helped. Popcorn, candy, hotdog and pop concessions at basketball and football games, along with informal dances after the games provided more funds.

On December 20, the seniors promoted a successful semi-formal Christmas dance. Milk sales, two raffles, class pins, stationery, pencils inscribed with the basketball schedule, and a food sale held in March, all helped out.

The tour the class is going to take will be under the guidance of the Penny Barker Tours, Inc. and will take the class through Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

On April 9-10 the seniors presented their annual play. This year they chose "We Shook The Family Tree" as their presentation.

Winners of the class Lowellian contest included Phyllis Sutton and Dick Jackson as best looking and Jack Lind and Lavonne Barker as the most athletic. The most popular honors went to Betty Duncan and Joe Kormendy and Lois Little and Bill Sheets were voted as the two seniors most likely to succeed. Six of the senior entrants walked away with top honors in the all-class Lowellian contest.

Dressed in navy blue gowns, eighty-seven seniors will receive their diplomas on May 21.

SENIOR PLAY

"WE SHOOK THE FAMILY TREE"

by Hildegard Dolson

Directed by Geraldine Thompson

CAST

Hildegard	Shirley Ines
Sally	Lavonne Barker
Mother	Ruth Vanco
Father	Bob Coloney
Bob	LeRoy Liptack
Jimmy	Joe Kormendy
Jill	Pauline Hetherington
Ellie May	Betty Duncan
Paige	Barbara Long
Freddie	Wilbur Hegnauer
Mrs. Shermer	Marylee Fleming
Mr. Shermer	Bill Sheets

After winning the school debate, Hildegard still has no date for the Prom. Afraid she will be a spinster or a librarian, she gets herself and family into embarrassing and rollicking situations. The three act comedy has a laughing whirlwind finish with a happy solution to Hildegard and friend Freddie's problems.

PROPHECY

After receiving our invitations on July 10, 1972, for the reunion of the class of 1948, we started on our journey to Sulphur Springs, Indiana, formerly Lowell, Indiana. Upon our arrival we were met by Harriet Hoevet, Sulphur Springs Police Chief, who was to be our guide for the day. She immediately rushed us to the airport to meet Dick Longnecker, President of the United States.

While waiting for the arrival of the Presidential Helicopter we saw many of our old classmates. The first to meet our eye was the famous acting team Pat Allen and Amber Lee. Pat is the former Albert Pattee and Amber is more commonly known to her classmates as Marylee Fleming. A group of youngsters came up just then to get autographs. We were surprised to find out that the mother of five of them was Pat Swett who had married Bill McKinney, a famous California lawyer.

Just then the attention of the crowd was focused on the arrival of the President. The President and his wife, known to us as Carolyn Hayhurst, were the first to step out of the helicopter followed by their three children. When Carolyn first went to the White House and saw all of the rooms going to waste she immediately put an ad in the paper for roomers. She gives the money to her favorite charity, herself. After them came the Secretary of State Squeak Hegnauer and his wife, Bonnie Smith. A very distinguished looking couple if we ever saw one. Bonnie is now the social leader in Washington.

After our distinguished classmates left we saw a couple slip quietly out of the helicopter. Upon closer observation we saw that they were none other than Shirley Imes and Ed Troy. We asked them what they were doing on the presidential helicopter. They explained that Shirley was the Whitehouse cook and Ed the Whitehouse butler and that they had stowed away on the helicopter in order to come.

Police Chief Hoevet was then called to go to the hospital on an accident call and told us to meet her there later.

We decided to linger a while longer at the airport in hopes that the rocket ship would arrive earlier than it was scheduled. All of a sudden a P-80 came into view! whoops---it landed! Descending from the plane were our dearly beloved sponsors Miss Cook, Mrs. Sisson, Mr. DuBois, and our government teacher Miss Steelhammer. They seemed to be having a terrific argument, and as they came closer we found they were arguing about who had influenced our distinguished class members the most.

We decided we were hungry since we hadn't eaten since very early in the morning and started to look for a restaurant. There were no restaurants in the terminal so we then walked across the street to a shabby old shack. When we entered we saw a sign above the bar, "Tom and Mabel's Hot Dog and Coke Bar." The proprietors came out and they were Tom Sharkey and Mabel Schutz. It seems that they got married a few years after they graduated and decided that a hot dog and coke bar would be the most profitable business. They said their motto was, "Eat all you can and you'll look like us." We left after one hot dog.

Finding nothing else of interest at the airport we decided to go to the hospital and meet Chief Hoevet. She was leaving just as we got there but told us to look around the very modern hospital and that she would pick us up at our hotel before going to the reunion.

We were very anxious to see the Superintendent of Nurses Charlotte Starr. Charlotte blushing insisted that we go upstairs to see her husband whom she married two weeks before. She wouldn't tell us who he was but said he was very handsome. Stepping into the elevator we were taken up to the fifth floor by Bob Coloney, the elevator boy. Bob told us to stop in to see his wife, Jeannette Tunnell, the hospital dietician. We walked through the Chief-of-Staff's door and stopped in our tracks, for it was the famous surgeon Dr. Leroy Liptak who was Charlotte's handsome husband. He told us to be sure to see the new operating room but not to disturb the mathematician and scientist who were in the lab next to it. Riley Robertson is said to be the world's leading scientist. Alvie Childress is the first mathematician to find the end of pi.

We then left the hospital to go on a sight-seeing tour of the city. The sightseeing fly-mobile was run by Joann Taylor and Stanley Miller. Stanley pointed out the places of interest and gave a brief history of them. Joann drove and flew the bus. The first point of interest was the "Old Maids Home" which was run by Doris Hoeckelburg and Marcele Berdine. Across the street Dick Jackson and Vance Crisp had a competing "Bachelors Home." Of course, none of the occupants have given up hope yet.

Next we came to a side show which was plastered with pictures and signs such as the "Fat Woman of '72." Joan landed and we got to see the show. The Barker, Bow-wow-Certie was telling of the sights inside. We learned later that she was Jean Mital. We paid our quarter to get in and the first attraction to meet our eyes was Phyllis Sutton, the fat woman, tipping the scales at 945 pounds. Of course, no circus is complete without a Wild Man from Borneo. Myron Tyler surprised us as this wierd character.

We drove and flew along a few miles in comparative quiet seeing nothing but the Lind and Franzen Rest Home for the Decrepit. Next to it stood the Justice of Peace. Lois Little and Burl Carlson lived there; Lois supplied the justice and Burl the Peace.

After speeding along at 90 miles an hour for a couple of blocks we stopped in front of the "Wee Widdle Swats Laundry Service" which was owned by Dean Hiltzley and Delores Fleming. After having their twelfth child they decided this would be a worthwhile investment.

Our tour ended at the newspaper office where was published "The Truth or The Prevdricator" edited by Julian Echterling. Hidden behind stacks of letters was Betty Duncan, alias Miss Anthony of the Lovelorn Column.

Then, taking a stroll down Commercial Boulevard, we heard the strains of wonderful dancing music and turning in its direction we gazed upon the beautiful dancing school of "Schinkel & Purcell." When we looked in the door we saw Ruth leading the Congo line with Charles bringing up the rear.

After the wear and tear of the day we kept our appointment of Phillips' Beauty Salon run by Charles and Poul Phillips. we were very thrilled to have our hair styled by the famous hair stylist, Monsieur Rulay. Cozong around the salon we recognized Irene Lynn crawling around the floor picking up pieces of hair to use in her wig factory which is located at the edge of town.

Outside the Beauty Salon we hailed a taxi cab. To our surprise the taxi cab driver was Mory Lou Williams who declared it was Mr. Bronnack's driver's training that made her a competent driver. We told her to take us to the airport. Arriving there we were just in time to see Pope Pius XIII descend from the plane. Under all the regalia of the Pope we recognized Bob Harper followed by Countess Barbara De Beau (former Barbara Long) who was just out of exile after marrying Count Pierre De Beau (once Bob Hoeckleberg).

We then left the airport and proceeded to our hotel, "The Extravaganzo," owned and operated by Pot Gross and Joy Doolittle. Going into the lobby we saw Bill Smith who was waiting for his girl friend Pearl Morkwell. Bill owned a big textile factory in El Paso, Texas, and Pearl was a famous Kormendy model. Joe Kormendy bought out John Robert Powers model agency in New York, after making his first million selling shoestrings at the corner of Stote and Rondolph in Chicago.

We had to go thru the recreation room to get to the escalators and as we got nearer we heard a grinding of wood and a faint tick, tick. We found that the grinding was Bob Boyles making wooden shoes. He had gone to Holland to live and had become a wooden shoe manufacturer. Over in the other corner was Norman Swider, the ping pong champion, playing with Bob Lane who is the manager of the World's Fair which will be held in Sulphur Springs in 1976.

On our way to our room we saw some people loitering ahead of us. As we started to pass them we saw that they were Babe Biers and Martha Wunderink who had been married a few years ago and now own a prosperous gas station in the Sahara Desert. With them was Fred Lutgen, a tobacco auctioneer; he has taken the place of F.B. Boon on the Lucky Strike program.

At last we arrived at our rooms where we intended to rest before the reunion that night only to be interrupted by the chambermaids, Gizello Kepes and Barbara Uhter. They had heard we were here and had to come in to talk over old times with us. When they left we settled down to rest but just then someone barged through our room and jumped out the window. After him came two more people, but they stopped when they got to the window. They were Allen Roberts and Violo Schrieber. Allen is a psychiatrist and Violo is a matron in the insane asylum. We asked them who had jumped out of the window but they said it was some lunatic who had escaped over whom we needn't worry.

We gave up the idea of rest as hopeless, got dressed, and went down to the lobby to watch the people. You could have heard a pin drop in the lobby, it was so quiet; we looked toward the door and in walked Minnie Von Keppel and after her an African native, his hair wrapped up in a bone and a string of teeth around his neck. Minnie is a missionary in Africa and Tokis, the African with her, is her most devoted servant.

A few minutes later Police Chief Hoebet came after us to take us to the VanBrum night club where the reunion was to be held; with her was Harold Snyder who is a warden at Sing Sing.

As we got out of the palice flyingmobile in front of the night club, we were astounded to see Lavonne Barker & Eugene Peters who are singing Evangelists and were trying to reform the patron of the club. When we entered, we were greeted by our host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brumbaugh who owned the night club. Mrs. Brumbaugh was the farmer Ruth Vanco. She took us over to the check room to leave our wraps. We had to look twice at the brunette who waited on us and were speechless when we found she was Barbara Viant, the blonde of our high school days.

The headwaiter Bill Sheets took us to a very long and narrow table where the majority of our former classmates were seated. The lights went out for the floor show so we didn't get to talk to any of them.

Marshall Byrnes, leader of the Pink Cloud orchestra, announced torch singer Dolores O'Cannell, singing "Indiana Blues". After much applause Dolores sang as her encore "Illinois Loyalty." We were all surprised at the next number on the program: Annabelle Misner, the Hula Hula girl. Annabelle had gone on a trip to Hawaii after she graduated and liked the country so well she learned to do the hula. The spot light was then focused on a couple sitting at the end of our table, Leonard Allie and Vivian Hoffman, the Metropolitan Opera stars who were to honor us with a song.

When the lights came on we were very surprised to Lorraine Sauer sitting beside us. She was still single and taught manual training at Sulphur Spring High School. Next to Lorraine was Dick Little, Speaker of the House in the State legislature. Looking down the table we saw a few classmates had seen earlier in the day. On the other side of us sat Phillip Snyder and his, the former Jeannette Cox. Phillip is a banker in Chicago, and they are very prominent in the social circle. We noticed someone with a queer looking evening dress and cape on and asked Chief Hoevet who it was. She said it was Pauline Hetherington who was a big game hunter in the African jungles. She is the first hunter to kill a lion and leopard with one bullet. Her dress was made out of leopard skin and her cape from a lion's mane. Next to her was Vernal Collins and Wayne Wietbrock. Vernal was a lady wrestler until she married Wayne and gave up her career to help him train as light weight champion boxer of the world. Just then the cigarette girl came by and we saw that it was Virginia Barowski who became a cigarette girl because of the tips.

We looked out on the dance floor and saw Betty Albertson and Kenneth Dockweiler dancing without any shoes on. They owned a grocery store in the Ozarks and had gotten out of the habit of wearing anything on their feet. Dorothy Hardesty and Arthur Gaitner were hopping around on the dance floor. They own a kangaroo farm and have seen the kangaroos hopping around so much that they do it.

As the evening came to a close, General Darrell Mink made the farewell speech saying that we would all try to meet here again in ten years. We were all sorry to say good-bye but the thought of meeting again gave us something to look forward to.

SENIOR WILL

We, the class of 1948 of Lowell District High School in the state of Indiana, being of sound body and feeble mind do hereby make this our last will and testament:

To our dear "Old Alma Mater," we will a new boiler, so the students won't have to miss any more school.

To the underclassmen we will an extra gym floor that can be pulled out for dancing.

To Mr. Brannock we will a split personality so he can be with the drivers training car and in the office at the same time.

To Miss Cook we will a horse and buggy--in case she ever gets tired driving her convertible Chrysler.

To Miss Baughman we will a swimming pool and instructors license so she can have a change from teaching Algebra.

To Mrs. Hetherington we will a motor scooter and a year's supply of gas to bring her back and forth to school.

To Miss Wilcox we will Aladdins Lamp to produce a genie to help her grade her papers.

To Miss Burgman we will a carrier pigeon so she won't have to spend three cents for a stamp every day.

To Mrs. Vandermark we will a mouse trap to catch the two legged mice that eat all the food in the kitchen.

To Miss Thompson we will a cook that can make all sorts of foreign dishes.

To Miss Steelhammer we will a hot rod to make her usual week-end trip.

To Mrs. Sisson we will an extra waste paper basket so the girls can throw their kleenex in it instead of using the desks.

To Mr. Cundiff we will a life insurance policy just in case some student might decide to blow up the lab.

To Mr. DuBois we will a wig to keep his head warm.

To Miss Voltmer we will an extra pair of hands; also a brush-up course in shorthand.

To Mrs. Martin we will an understudy to help her with her many duties.

To Mr. Jones we will an exclusive right to publish his many jokes.

To Mr. Ham we will a printing press to help him put out the school paper, the Lowellian, play cast programs, basketball and football programs; also all of the many other articles he publishes.

To Mr. Ruley we will an electric mop.

To Mr. Tilton we will Pluto to help him keep watch over the school house at night; also a few mystery books to keep him company.

To Mr. Robb we will a "Joe" to keep his "Josephine" company.

To "Mike" we will a walkie-talkie set so he can give his football stars the plays while they are in their huddles.

I, Betty "Ron" Albertson, do hereby will and bequeath the good times I had in Chicdgo to Emily Miller. May she have as much fun as I did.

I, Leonard Allie, hereby will my ability to keep cool in a football game to Wayne Walters.

I, Lavonne Barker, being of questionable mind and sound body do hereby will the many good times I had in Lowell High School to anyone who wants them. I only regret, it's all over. I also will to the boys who gave them to me, the bruises I received on my 17th birthday.

I, Orville Baier, being of sound mind will my ability to play Center to Jim Purkey and may he be able to hit the Backfield better than I. It might help.

I, Marcelle Berdine, do hereby bequeath to Patty Martin my ability to go steady for a long period of time and to Chuck Faverty my ability to pass notes in study hall and not get caught.

I, Virginia Borowski, do hereby will my scholastic ability to any other ignoramus who wants it.

I, Bob Boyles, will my ability to keep quiet in Government to Darrell Cavinder. I hope he'll use it as I did.

I, Chuck Brumbaugh, will my place on the football bench to kid brother, Leonard.

I, Pete Carlson, of sound mind will my 7th period Government seat to Jim Purkey. May he have as much fun as I did.

I, Jeannette Cox, will to Marilyn and Shirley Doty any one of my abilities, if you can find them. And my wonderful driving ability to the poor beginners.

I, Alvie Childress, will my ability in Shop Math to anyone who wants it. May he have better luck than I did.

I, Bob Coloney, of perfect health and sane mind do hereby will my ability to play the sousaphone and the horn to John D. Strickhorn, and my ability to play all the positions in the backfield to Dick Burgess.

I, Vernal Collins, do hereby will my ability to find instead of sitting on tacks to Miss Steelhammer.

I, Kenneth Dockweiler, of sound mind and body do hereby will to Kenneth Meyers my ability to lehave on the bus.

I, Jay Doolittle, being of sound mind, do hereby will to my kid brother Johnny my unpleasant habit of learning everything through school the hard way.

I, Betty Duncan, do hereby will to my little brother my ability to do acrobatics and to be a cheerleader for at least one year.

I, Audrey Duncan, bequeath to Tony Sacco and Joe Williams my dictionary so that they may understand me better. And to my sister Evelyn, I will the rest of my locker.

I, Julian Echterling, will Joe Dewes a bladeless knife, a dead toad, and a 3 in. piece of store string.

I, Margaret Franzen, do hereby will to Dean Childress everything he may have borrowed from me in the past year and also my Government book to Lora Widdel. May she get as good grades as I did.

I, Dolores Fleming, will to "Sunshine" Millies my ability to get into triangles, and to the "Barbs" Bowton and Chappell my 1st. seat in Government--may they break their necks looking at Steelhammer, as I did.

We, the solo clarinets, Marylee Fleming, Pauline Hetherington, Barbara Viant, and Vernal Collins, will to the clarinet sections of the future our ability to untie shoe strings and knock over the music of those who sit in back of us without getting caught.

I, Art Gaither, will to my brother, Tom, my front seat in Government class. I believe he'll need it.

I, Pat Gross, being of questionable mind and poor judgment, will all (if) of my abilities to anyone who needs them. May they profit more than I have.

I, Squeak Hegnauer, being of strong body and weak mind, will my ability to go with one woman longer than two weeks in succession without any trouble and my football ability to anyone who will have it.

I, Dean Hiltzley, will to Walter Huseman my U.S. History book in the hopes that he is more successful than I was.

I, Bob Hoeckelberg, will my ability to get out of study hall to my brother Don. May he be as successful as I have always been.

I, Bob Harper, of sound mind and body will to John Dee my word not to throw him out of the window in 5th. period study hall.

I, Pauline Hetherington, will to Patsy Ann Pletcher my imperturbable nature and to Jim Brandt my chair in the clarinet section and my old battered clarinet. May they profit by them.

I, Vivian Hoffman, will to Erma Stenger the act of getting away with chewing gum and Carol Hands my technique of getting along with Miss Wilcox. May they do better than I did.

I, Harriet Hoevet, will to Rosa Young my gym clothes so she won't have to borrow any.

I, Dorothy Hardesty, will to my sister Barbara my milk stool and my ability to milk.

We, Doris Hoeckelberg and Joanne Taylor, will our ability to go steady to Terry Miller and Jim Sharkey. I, Doris, leave to Pat Lindquist my ability to get out of study hall. More fun!

We, Shirley Imes and Carolyn Hayhurst, being of sound mind and body do bequeath everything we haven't got but wish we had to anyone who wants it because what we have got we need.

I, Dick Jackson, will to Dale Jackson, my brother, the ability to make Mr. Jones think I'm playing the tymps.

I, Joe Kormendy, do hereby will to Jim Purkey and "Sluggie" Walters my ability to resist burlesque shows, and also my knowledge and judgment of women.

I, Gizzie Kepes, will my gum and nickles to Miss Steelhammer. May she enjoy the gum as well as I have.

I, Irene "Pete" Lyren, do bequeath to Emily Miller, the burned-out bearings in my roller skates, and to Mary Lou Mellies my love and appreciation of operatic music, she needs it.

I, Jack Lind, of strong body and feeble mind, do hereby bequeath my ability to get a Gross to Charlotte Lou McCarty.

I, LeRoy Liptak, in unsound mind, do will my slim figure to Margie Leach and Mary Hepp.

I, Barbara Long, do hereby bequeath to June Cortin my super(?) ability to do a cartwheel. And all my junk to next years seniors to sell! And, last, my extra height to Bob Blair.

I, Rusty Lane, will to the drivers training class my 1929 Olds. It's wrecked already.

We, Lois Little and Marylee Fleming, do hereby will to Audrey Childress and Marion Black our ability to get along on friendly terms. May they have as much fun arguing as we did.

I, Dick Longenecker, being of questionable mind and unsound judgment, do hereby will my ability for running for the bus to Dick Norris and hope he doesn't need it.

I, Pearl Markwell, will and bequeath to my friend Margie Leach my bashfulness. She needs more than I do.

I, Bill McKinney, do hereby will the ability to talk my way through school to anyone who wants it.

I, Stanley Miller, do hereby will and bequeath to James Lester Wood my quiet manners and to Bob Blair my ability to get along with the teachers.

I, Eugene Peters, will to Ralph Barker my ability to move around in study hall.

I, Charles Phillips, hereby will my big feet to George Hatch so he will have a more solid foundation.

I, Paul Phillips, of weak mind, hereby will my broken-down motor scooter to Jim Burke. May it carry his far.

I, Charles Purcell, will my extra eight credits to Eleanor Tice and my ability to get along with Mr. Jones to Bob Love.

I, Riley Robertson, hereby will all my good ambitions toward studies to any freshman who could possibly use them. May he do better than I.

I, Allan Roberts, will to Ralph Barker my height and my small feet; may he grow taller than I have.

I, Donald B. Ruley, being of (mostly) sound, mind do will to my brother all my pin-up girls, my size 9 shoes, my Dad's Chevrolet to drive his girl around in and my jacket that would never zip closed.

I, Lorraine Sauer, will my great athletic ability to Lucille Schutz. May she always remember me for my generosity.

I, Bill Sheets, before being put away, hereby will to Allan Miller my ability to get into fifth period study hall after the last bell without being sent to the office, and to John Beckman my sticking to soft drinks.

I, Harold Snyder, will to my best friend, James Purkey, my car so he won't have to walk Ruthie to the show on Saturday night.

I, Phillip Snyder, will my curls to my sister Carol so she won't have to twist her hair every night.

I, "Phyl" Sutton, do hereby will my position as cheerleader, also half of my lovable, liting cackle to Pat Martin; may she always remember my generosity???

I, Bonnie Lou Smith, will my long legs to Alice Engel. They're mighty handy to make it to class on time.

I, Charlotte Starr, do hereby will and bequeath to anyone who will take it, locker 80 with all it's mice. I hope Mickey doesn't eat as many of your lunches as he did mine.

I, Pat Swett, do hereby will and bequeath my great height to Gene Lehman. He needs it.

I, Tom Sharkey, will John Dee my athletic ability, and my position on the football team to Terry Miller. My seat in Journalism to Nada Taylor.

I, Corky Swider will to Burp Gross all my pencil stubs. May he never have to borrow a pencil.

I, Bill Smith, of good health and mind do hereby will my nickname "Lard" to Charles Surprise; he might be able to use it. If he can't he can give it away.

I, Viola "Joe" Schreiber, will to Emily Miller and Adeline Wisniewske the flat wheels on my roller skates. May they get kicked off the floor as often as I did.

I, Ruth Schinkel, do hereby will to Verna Berg my government book. May she have as much fun dusting it off as I had. To Chuck Faverly I will my giggle. May he use it as I have if it's not worn out already.

I, Mabel Schutz, will to Mary Hepp my Chicago interests and to Arlene Berger also Patsy Ann Pletcher my blind dates from Dyer, and to Pat Hudson and Ronnie Cross my ability to steal a ping pong table at noon.

I, Myron Tyler, will Herman Allie my seat in government, when and if he gets there.

I, JoAnne Taylor, will my membership in the J. R.'s to Helen Patton, my love for the Seniors to Rosa Young, she needs it! And to my sweet (?) sister, Nada, I will my ability to ditch school and not get caught.

I, Jeannette Tunnell, do hereby will and bequeath to my sister, Nancy, my beat-up baton and my battered roller skates. May she have as much fun as I did. Also I will my ability to chew gum in class, and not get caught (?) to Margie Engel.

I, Barbara Uhter, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to behave to Butch Little and Dick Sharkey, and to Terry Miller my beloved (?) seat in government class.

I, Ruth Vanco, do hereby will and bequeath all my interests in and notes from Terry Miller to anyone who wants them. May they profit by them as I didn't!!

I, Barbara Viant, will to my sister, Iris, and to Patsy Ann Pletcher my ability to get in early and to anyone who can use it better than I could, my government book.

I, Minnie Van Keppel, will to Kenny Meyers all the things he took from me on the bus, and to Sylvia and Laura Mae I leave the front seat in our bus.

I, Wayne Weitbrock, being of doubtful mind, do hereby will and bequeath to Leland Tanner my ability to get along with the teachers.

I, Mary Lou Williams, will to Pat Lindquist my cast-off shyness (she needs it); to Dean Ruley my muscles and Mary Moyer my straight back.

I, Paul Williams, of sound mind and good health, do hereby will my great love of teachers to Bob Bloir.

I, Martha Wunderink, do hereby will to Normo Bahr my ability to ride in a Model-T-Ford, especially the Carlson's.

LOWELLIAN CONTEST

Lowell High selected from its student body the most popular, best looking, best athlete, and the most likely to succeed boy and girl of the year.

For the most popular girl, they chose Betty Duncan, a senior cheerleader, and as the most popular boy, Joe Kormendy, also a senior.

In the glamour department another senior cheerleader took honors with the "Hedy LaMarr" look; none other than Phyllis Sutton. Dick Jackson, a senior, was chosen the best looking boy on the L.H.S. campus.

The most active in sports and "quite the athletes" are Lavonne Barker, senior, and Dick Norris, junior basketball star.

In the intelligence plus personality department, Lois Little, a senior active in 4-H Club work, and Kenny Childress, junior and Student Government President, the most likely to succeed boy and girl of the future.

The contestants were as follows:

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

School opened with our enrollment at 105 juniors, less than the previous two years. Miss Thompson, Miss Cook and Mr. Cundiff were our class sponsors.

We elected as our class officers Terry Miller, president, Bob Carroll, vice-president, and Patty Martin, secretary-treasurer.

October was the month of our magazine sale which topped the sales of last year. Norman Shroka won a portable radio for being our "super-salesman". Mary Hepp won an electric radio from the raffle which was held along with the magazine sales.

"Those Websters" was presented as the class play which developed into a huge success under the direction of Miss Thompson.

Merritt Busselburg, Kenneth Childress, Eugene Lehman, Terry Miller, and Wayne Walters received major letters in football. Eugene Harper, Jim Purkey and Jim Sharkey received minor letters. Basketball major letters went to Dick Norris, Bob Gross, Terry Miller, Don Spoerner, Darrell Cavinder, Bob Carroll and Eugene Lehman.

We were well represented in the Student Government with Rudy Paverty, Dick Norris, Jannie Randolph and Ann Spann in the Senate, and Wayne Walters, Joan Minninger, Bob Carroll, Darrell Cavinder and Terry Miller in the House of Representatives. Kenneth Childress, vice-president of Student Government, became president when Dick Longenecker graduated at the end of first semester.

Since 1948 is leap year we sponsored a "Leap Year" dance, which was held March 6 in the high school auditorium.

During the year, three new students entered our class: Wilma Lou Utermark from Bloom Township in Chicago Heights, Lyla Martin from Les Wallace in Gary, and Margaret Lyons from Forest Hills, Kentucky.

JUNIOR PLAY

"Those Websters"

Directed by Geraldine Thompson

Bill Webster.....	Robert Carroll
George Webster.....	Darrell Cavinder
Jane Webster.....	Joan Minninger
Liz Webster.....	Nada Taylor
Belinda Boyd.....	Patty Martin
Jeep Stanley.....	Norbert Shroka
Dolores Mason.....	Jannie Randolph
Kitty.....	June Corten

In three acts Bill Webster manages to get himself in and out of great women trouble and to save his football career, as well as his father's pride, from utter destruction --all with the "aid" of Jeep.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

With an enrollment of one-hundred and seven members, the sophomores started out their school year with a bang. An addition was made to their class when Lois Bevins from Sullivan High in Kingsport, Tennessee, enrolled.

As their officers they elected Kenneth Burger, president and Arne Carlson to act as vice-president. Allan Miller took the role of secretary-treasurer.

Their activities were supervised by their sponsors-Miss Wilcox, Miss Baughman and Mr. Milakovic.

The fellows, as sports minded as they were as freshman, continued participating in athletics. Arne Carlson and Elvis Midkiff received their Major letters in football. Those who received their minors were; Allan Miller, Don Pattee, Dick Sharkey and Charles Surprise. Minors in basketball were received by Dick Sharkey, Roland Hoffman, Gene Rust, Allan Miller and Arne Carlson.

The sophomore girls initiated in the G.A.A. were: Anna Mary Kelsey, Mary Schrum, Jo Ann Hart, Pat Kolweic, Pat Hudson, DeMaris Amtsbuechler, Norma Bahr, Marcia Bolt, Mary Ann Clark, Barbara Childress, June Stowell, Marjorie Davis, Carolyn Kormendy, Jeanette Peterson, Ruth Sauer, Charlotte McCarty, Geraldine Inderski and Beverly Geisel.

Charlotte McCarty was re-elected as yell leader for the second team.

The class was represented in student government by Chuck Surprise, Joanne Larson, Anna Mary Kelsey, Clynn Worthington, Pat Hudson and DeMaris Amtsbuechler.

Gray with maroon letters were the colors they chose for their class sweaters.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

The local grade schools of Lowell, Cook, Cedar Lake, Shelby and others, yielded 129 students to Lowell High as the 1947-48 class of Freshman. Very green but eager to learn, this set of beginners show that Freshman aren't as dumb as some think, by attaining high scholastic records.

After getting acquainted with one another, the class members elected as their officers the following:

President.....Don Fredricks
Vice-President.....Janis Buche
Secretary-Treasurer.....Audrey Childress

Senators to the Student Government were also chosen: Janis Buche, David Grant, Joan O'Connell and Leland Tanner.

The first class party was "rolling" fun held at the Crescent Roller Rink at Cedar Lake. Most of the class were in attendance under the chaperonage of Mrs. Hetherington, Mr. Ham, Mr. Jones, and Mr. Robb.

Athletics weren't shunned by the new "Lowellites" either. Some of the outstanding boy athletics are Russell Tuttle, Johnny Doolittle and Richard Burgess. Janis Buche, Theresa Prada and Carolyn Purkey are active in girls sports.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

"In order to bring about a better understanding between students and faculty, we, the Students of Lowell High School, do hereby establish the constitution."

In 1944 the Student Council of Lowell High School passed a bill introducing Student Government. This system was patterned after our national government. Its purpose was and still is to give the student body a chance to make and enforce its own laws. The first President was Frank Childress.

In 1945 Student Government introduced the first and only Student Court. This tribunal consisted of jurors and a judge to try cases of misconduct of the students. Lasting one year, this court was abolished because it was unsuccessful.

Our present Government consists of one President, one Vice-President, a Senate and a House of Representatives. The Senate consists of sixteen members, each class sending four representatives, so selected that each homeroom is represented. The House of Representatives is composed of eighteen members, two from each club. All groups except the G.A.A., Home Ec, L Club, and F.F.A. send one boy and one girl each.

Some of the projects Student Government worked on this 47-48 year are:

A more systematic and convenient method of parking the school buses was suggested. After measuring the present parking lot and determining how it must be changed, the legislative groups make the appropriate recommendations to the trustees.

A demand for a more adequate homeroom program was echoed in the House. A committee was formed to investigate and make suggestions on basis of findings.

The driveway and the road in front of the school are danger spots and would be made much safer if caution signs were secured for them.

A system of leaving the school has improved the after school rush for buses.

Some of the drinking fountains were fixed as a result of the Government's recommendation.

There is an investigation of the reason for the delay of the athletic field.

It is recognized that our Student Government is not functioning as well as it could because of the lack of citizenship training of the students, as well as the lack of time for the activities of the entire governing group.

'47 - '48 ART CLUB

The purpose of the Art Club is to promote interest in our school art department and outside fields of art. Under the sponsorship of Miss Cook and leadership of Barbara Long, president, Jeanette Peterson, vice-president, and Patsy Swett, secretary, a wide variety of activities were enjoyed the 1947-48 school year.

At the beginning of the year an initiation party was held at the Kankakee River in Shelby. Clay-modeling, leather-crafts, beadwork, sketching, perspective and wood-crafts were a few of the class projects for the year. One of the things that rates special interest is a puppet stage. Work was begun last year and there is still much to be done. Puppets, costumes, furniture, stage settings and the stage itself are part of the project. Movies were shown in classes throughout the year; a trip to a Chicago art scho was also planned. Again this year several students entered the annual Northern Indiana art contest. The main money-raising project was selling milk, candy and pop at various times.

G.A.A. OATH

"I (name) in order to become a member of the G.A.A., do solemnly swear that I will abide by all regulations and laws of the organization. I shall never disgrace myself or our club by showing unsportsmanlike conduct. The G.A.A. club shall always receive my utmost consideration and cooperation; I shall endeavor to apply it in the pursuit of leisure time. I shall do all in my power to promote the interests of the G.A.A."

Being accepted into the state G.A.A. has given our club a higher standing. The state G.A.A. encourages everyone to participate in sports by awarding 10 points for 4 practices in a sport and 10 extra points if the first team is made.

A change had to be made pertaining to points for letters and sweaters. According to the State G.A.A., 150 points will secure a letter and 250 points a sweater, but in order to eliminate so many girls from receiving letters and sweaters and making the letters and sweaters more valuable merits, the point system was increased to 250 points and 350 points, respectively. This new system was started this year. One reason for Lowell High's girls' interest in sports is that, although in most Indiana High Schools gym is not required in the last two years, it is here and therefore keeps the girls' interest.

Under the able leadership of our advisor Miss Burgman, and our President, Doris Hoeckelberg, the club participated in the usual activities of selling pins and milk and sponsoring the Athletic Dance and Mothers' Tea.

This spring the club sponsored a trip to McCormick Creek State Park. Senior girls had first choice to go and then underclassmen with the highest points were chosen to go.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Because of the lack of competition in girls sports with other schools, intramural sports are substituted. Speedball, hitpin, volleyball and softball constitute the major girls' sports, and ping pong, shuffleboard, aerial darts, tennis, hiking, archery and volleying, the minor sports. These are played in gym classes and at noon hour. Any girl wishing to participate at noon hour may. A captain is chosen and a team picked for each class. If four practices are attended, ten points are earned towards G.A.A.; if the team is made, ten additional points are earned. The four class teams then play against each other either by Round Robin or elimination method. This year the Seniors won a majority of sports.

The girls' equipment being quite worn out from use has limited them in participating fully in all sports. The last two years tennis rackets have been obtainable at a low student price to encourage the lost interest in this sport. Also, students have learned the fundamentals of archery and aerial darts which haven't been played here for some time.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Sixty-six girls with the additions of 4 boys and 38 new "Freshies," resumed classes once again in the Home Economics department of Lowell High School under their new sponsor, Mrs. Arlene Vandermark, herself a graduate of L.H.S.

The Home Ec Club organized in 1940 under Miss Amy Perry. To qualify for membership a student must maintain a specified grade average, pass every subject taken the previous semester, and be taking Home Economics at the time or have completed the course.

With girls (and fellows) acknowledging the need for know-how in canning, cooking, sewing, family life, home management, and child care, in order to make better citizens in this world as wife's, mother's (and father's) of the future, the Home Ec Club soared to an all time high of 128 members, an increase of 58 in club membership.

This year the Home Economics club chose Barbara Uhter as president, Barbara Long as Vice-President and Phyllis Sutton, secretary-treasurer, to lead them in their work and activities. Joan Larson and JoAnne Taylor represented the club in the House of Representatives.

Outstanding seamstress, Annabelle Misner, a senior in Home Ec, has accomplished much in sewing and pattern making, turning out lovely wardrobe which includes a crocheted bolero, silk blouses, slacks, a skirt, a corduroy dress and her most recent attempt, a tan suit. Having done "outside" sewing for friends, Annabelle's ambition to be a seamstress will probably be accomplished.

Lois Little, a senior and president of the Lake County 4-H Junior Leaders won the State Food Preservation Judging Contest during the Indiana State Fair of 1947. She reached this standard by being the winner in the County as well as the District Contest in Food Preservation and Judging. Lois, who was chairman of the F.F.A. banquet on March 2, is not a Home Economics Club member but has been an active member of the National 4-H Club for a period of 9 years.

At a Lions Club banquet in December, Home Ec girls planned, prepared and served a delicious dinner to 111 men in the school cafeteria for which they received much thanks as well as a $66.00 profit. With the aid of volunteer's from Home Ec classes, a banquet was prepared and served on March 2, to the F.F.A. boys and their fathers.

As in years past, mothers of the Lowell High School students were received graciously by their daughters and friends on May 5 at the Mother's Tea, co-sponsored by the members of the Home Ec Club and the G.A.A. The annual highlight of the afternoon was the crowning of a chosen senior girl as May Queen while mothers were getting acquainted with one another and enjoying punch and cookies.

Something new was presented to members at a club meeting. The president suggested they order Home Ec Club pins to distinguish members of the Club, the motion was carried and 32 girls ordered the black and gold pins.

Working together with endless efforts, co-operation, generosity and thoughtfulness of each and every person of the Home Economics department and club is the policy held in receiving the highest premium of success this year.

"L" CLUB

The "L" Club purpose is to create greater spirit, deeper interest in athletics, respect for the athletic program, and good fellowship. The creed of the club which forms RED DEVILS is: Responsibility, Efficiency, Determination, Dependability, Execution, Valor, Initiative, Loyalty, Sportsmanship.

Sponsored by Coach Mike Milakovic, the club is composed of athletes of Lowell High School who have won major letters. Officers for 1947-48 school year were President Wilbur Hegnauer, Vice-President Orville Beier, Secretary Treasurer Dick Little.

This year's activities included initiation of new members many of whom are underclassmen. A trophy was awarded to the home room winning the most games in the intramural basketball tourney. Trophies were awarded also to the outstanding athlete, best defensive man, and honorable captain in football.

The "L" Club of Lowell High School was founded in 1934 under the supervision of Athletic Director G. J. Crowe. The club was very strong at first, but folded up after a few years. In 1943 the club was reorganized by Coach Mike Milakovic and has been functioning since.

LATIN CLUB

Early in September the seventy members of the Latin Club met with Mrs. Hetherington and elected officers for the year. Those chosen were: Ann Spannan, president; Joan Minninger, vice-president; and Darrell Cavinder, secretary-treasurer.

February 10 was the date set for the Roman banquet. The students participating were members of the first and second year Latin classes. Second year students took guests. First year students acted as "slaves", serving the meal, and bathing the hands of the diners in true Roman style.

For the evening, Clarence Dockweiler acted as master of ceremonies and Marylee Fleming's dog "Patsy" as watchdog. The diners ate in the reclining Roman fashion and used no silver. Mr. and Mrs. Brannock and Miss Cook were on hand to "eat as the Romans ate," as well as Mrs. Hetherington.

The banquet consisted of a relish course served first, including pickles, onions, and eggs. Next came the main course featuring wine (diluted grape juice), fish, chicken, peas, and carrots. For the dessert course, olives, cakes, nuts and apples were served. Fruit juice and favors were part of each course.

The entertainment during the banquet and evening following consisted of tumblers, musicians, and singers.

On Honor Day the graduating seniors in the Latin Club were presented with Classical League Keys by Mrs. Hetherington. Those who received keys were Bill Sheets, Bob Coloney, Carolyn Hayhurst, Albert Pattee, Marylee Fleming, Bill Smith, Mabel Schults, Barbara Viant and Lois Little.

SUNSHINE CLUB

The Sunshine Club members are elected from each home room with an alternate who also goes to the meetings.

Sunbeam No. 1 this year was Lois Little, president of the club. Dick Jackson was vice-president and Carolyn Hayhurst, secretary and treasurer.

The representatives for the House were Betty Duncan and Harold Snyder.

The Sunshine Club earned money by selling Christmas cards and miscellaneous greeting cards. They also sold refreshments at football and basketball concessions and prospered by their milk sales during noon. This money was spent for flowers, cards, candy, books and baskets of fruit.

During the year the Club brought cheer to students suffering with the mumps and also to those down with scarlet fever, or colds and other minor ills. One student's six weeks' absence, because of virus pneumonia was lightened by the club's worthy efforts while he was in the hospital.

Mrs. Hetherington has sponsored the Sunshine Club for five years. Since '44 she has done a wonderful job for which we are greatly indebted to her.

SCIENCE CLUB

President.....	Shirley Imes
Vice-President.....	Arne Carlson
Secretary-Treasurer.....	June Corten

To further the interest in science in Lowell High School, the Science Club was organized in 1934 and became a member of the Junior Academy of Science in 1935. This membership enables the club members to present at the State Academy of Science scientific projects that the club has completed during the year. The members may receive special awards if their projects are deserving. Presentation of pins are awarded to the winning student on Honor Day.

Because the Club's constitution had become too lax in its provisions for membership, the 1948 members decided to revise it, making it read that no student can become a member of the Science Club without two years of science. Thus, they will secure a higher percentage of members who are truly interested in science. Students must also remain in the organization. The Science Club had approximately 36 members this year.

The new constitutional reading made it necessary to postpone the initiations until next school year.

Through many different channels the Science Club earned the money to buy a new microscope for the school this spring.

The Lowell F.F.A. chapter placed third in the state chapter contest for the past year. The plan submitted for this contest was its swine improvement plan which is implemented by lending chapter-owned purebred sows to member.

There were 48 active members in the chapter, 12 of whom were graduates. All of the members were on at least one committee. Approximately 400 different activities, which the committees had set up in the program of work, were accomplished by the chapter.

In supervised farming over 75% of the members have long-time project programs, with 19 members having obtained purebred animals this past year. A total of 82 projects were carried by the in-school members completed 520 improvement projects, which included the use of small grains. Forty-two home improvement projects were completed as well as a total of 421 supplementary practices.

The chapter took all-day field trips to the Chicago Fat Barrow Show, the International Livestock Show; at the latter the boys were guests of Swift and Company for a tour.

During the past year our chapter has taken part in the 5 national contests and 7 county, district, and state contests, with team members placing in each of them.

Nineteen of the Lowell F.F.A. members showed at 7 different shows, including the International and Indiana State Fair with winnings of over $400.

Courses of vocational agriculture were first established in the United States in '17 under the National Vocational Education Act. Within a few years, local departments in most states developed so-called "Agriculture Clubs." These organizations were largely social and recreational in nature, but developed educational, self improvement and co-operative features as well. Such groups as "Junior Farmer," "Future Farmers," and "Young Farmers," grew out of these smaller organizations.

The various leaders of these organizations had in their minds a National organization. The good work of these smaller clubs helped to formulate the Future Farmers of America and to launch it as a national organization for boys studying Vocational Agriculture. The first National convention was held in November of 1928, since that time the growth of F.F.A. has extended as far as Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and several foreign countries.

The aim of the F.F.A. is the development of leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. Several purposes of the F.F.A. are to create and nurture a love for country life; to encourage improvement of farm life; to encourage of rural activities; to help boys and men to have confidence in themselves and their work and to practice thrift and working together with their neighbors and friends.

PRESS CLUB

Press Club activities for 1947-48 began under the capable hand of its president, Barbara Long. To help her in her tasks were the vice-president, Bob Carroll, and Virginia Borowski, secretary-treasurer. Early in the semester the club chose its representatives for student government, Lavonne Barker and Joe Kormendy.

November 24, the annual turkey raffle was held and Wayne Weitbrock won the twenty-five pound turkey.

After the initiation party on December 15, the club's number was raised to fifty-eight members. One of the highlights of the party was the male quartet of Joe Kormendy, Squeak Hegnauer, Leonard Allie and Bill Smith who presented their idea of how cheerleaders should perform. After other initiations, refreshments were served, including chocolate milk, deliciously burned by Miss Steelhammer, cookies and doughnuts. Dancing ended the evening of fun.

Each year candidates for the honor blanket are chosen by the Press Club, senior home rooms and the faculty. From these entrants a boy and a girl are selected as the winners by a committee consisting of faculty and students. Candidates' eligibility is based on honor points, scholastic ability and sportsmanship.

LOWELLETTTE

The Lowellette containing articles on sports, current happenings in school, gossip, features and cartoons, is enjoyed by the students for fifteen cents a semester or twenty-five cents yearly.

News tips are gathered from the journalism classes and members of the student body who care to contribute ideas. From these suggestions the best are sorted out and assigned. On or before the deadline these stories go through the hands of proof readers who make any necessary corrections and sent then on to the typing room where the production staff type the articles used to "dummy up" the pages.

The "dummied" pages are sent to the vari-typists who type the stencils on the vari-typing machine. Mimeographing is the final process in the production of the paper before its pages are stapled together. The finished Lowellette is distributed to the home rooms by the circulation staff.

The 1947-8 Lowellette staff was as follows: Bonnie Smith, editor-in-chief; Marylee Fleming, associate editor; Ruth Vanco, Mabel Schutz and Lavonne Barker, feature editors; Doris Hoeckelberg, girls' sports; Bob Coloney, boys' sports; Betty Duncan, circulation manager; Barbara Long, art editor; and Miss Steelhammer, adviser.

On the production staff were Dorothy Brannock, Jean Childress, Marilyn Cox, Dorothy Hardesty, Doris Isler, Patty Martin, Arlene Schiltz, Phyllis Sutton and Mr. Ham, adviser.

CONCERT AND JUNIOR BANDS

The concert band started its new school year by marching in the Labor Day parade, an annual trek through Lowell. Starting rehearsals for the football games immediately, the band dressed up its field performances by the use of lights on their caps which can be turned on and off for desired effects. The concert band played the following selections in the annual Christmas Concert:

Skywriter, March.....	Bergeim
Missouri Waltz.....	Logan
Komm Susser Tod, Choral.....	Bach
March Carrillon.....	Hanson
Hall of Fame, March.....	Olivadote
Santa Claus is Coming to Town.....	Gillespie
Rocket, March.....	Thomas
Bells of St. Mary's.....	Adams

The new chimes which the Band Boosters purchased were presented at the Christmas Concert. They do much to add variety.

February 21, the solo and ensemble contest was held at Valparaiso. There were 17 members entered for Lowell. Of these, five received superior ratings, six excellent, and six good. April 3, the band entered the Music Festival at Morton Junior High in Hammond. Other band appearances were its Spring concert on April 24, in the Lowell High School Auditorium, and the May Commencement.

Band Officers are: President, Marylee Fleming; Vice-President, Richard Longenecker; Secretary-Treasurer, Bonnie Smith; Uniform Captains, Ruth Schinkel, Charles Purcell.

The Junior Band is a training band for the Concert band. Started only last year, its enrollment is 21. A new baritone sax was purchased for the group this year.

CHORAL GROUPS

This year the mixed choir had 72 members, 26 more than last year. Due to its increased enrollment, the choir purchased 24 new robes.

Last fall the choir sponsored a hayride for the Music Department and guests. In this hayride six wagons were pulled by five tractors. The group rode around in the vicinity of Lowell and came back to the school where they roasted "hotdogs" over an outdoor fire.

The choral group sang in the Christmas Concert and in the spring concert, April 24.

The group's officers are: President, Kenneth Childress; Vice-President, Joe Williams; Secretary-Treasurer, Ruth Schinkel; Accompanist, Pat Woods.

The girls' glee club is made up of freshman girls only. This year there were 32 members who sang in the Christmas and Spring concerts. January the girls went to hear the Don Cossack Chorus at one of its performances at Crown Point.

Selected as Glee Club officers are: President, Audrey Childress; Vice-President, Carolyn Purkey; Secretary-Treasurer, Janis Buche; Accompanist, Marjorie Davis; Robes, Marjorie Engle, Dallas Stillson.

SCHOOL SONG

(to the tune of "Illinois")

We're loyal to you, Lowell High!
We're loyal to you, Lowell High!
You're the best in the land,
And we know you can stand,
And we back you to stand,
Lowell High -- Rah -- Rah!
So, Smash that blockade, Lowell High!
Go crashing ahead, Lowell High!
Our team is our fame's protector,
On boys, for we expect a
Victory from you, Lowell High!
Cha-he, cha-ha, cha-ha-ha-ha
Lowell High--Lowell High--Lowell High
Swing out that dear old flag
Of red and the black,
Lead on, you sons and daughters,
Fighting right back,
Like men of old and giants
Placing reliance, shouting defiance,
Oski-bow-wow!
Amid the broad green plains that nourish
Our land, for honest labor and for Learning we stand, and to you we Pledge our heart and hand,
Our alma mater--Lowell High!

FOOTBALL

Lowell 0--Griffith 0

Lowell opened its season against a veteran team from Griffith with O-O tie. The big Panther Gridders brought the crowd to its feet on the first play of the game with a sleeper pass play which netted them 40 yards; but that's all they got. Lowell kept fumbling the wet ball and the rest of the first half was played in midfield.

The second half Lowell drove deep into Griffith's territory. Many chances were opened for the Red Devils, but they dropped the ball. Lowell's green line turned in a surprising performance against Griffith's veterans, keeping back several scoring thrusts.

Crown Point 12--Lowell 6

The Bulldogs of Crown Point, arch rivals of the Red Devils, took the first of the two games this season 12-6 their first win over the Devils since 1944. Although Lowell had an edge in all departments, even to fumbles, the Bulldogs put on one sustained drive in the 2nd quarter and took advantage of a Lowell fumble to win in the last quarter.

Lowell opened the scoring when Harper scored on a 12-yard end run for the touchdown.

Crown Point scored on a sustained drive of 70 yards with Bullock scoring on a 7 yard thrust over right tackle.

Lowell followed the same pattern throughout the whole game, going 20 to 40 yards through the Crown Point line, but tumbling just when they were on the way to a score. Crown Point scored on a fourth period jump pass from Rosenbauer to Prochno for four yards and a touchdown.

Hobart 6--Lowell 0

Journeying to Hobart, Lowell Red Devils were defeated 6-0 in a hard fought game. Lowell's line showed great improvement, holding everything Hobart had except in the third quarter when fullback Zajec plunged over left tackle for a touchdown.

In the first half Lowell got beyond Hobart's 30 yard line and was stopped mainly because of incomplete passes. The third and fourth quarters, except for the first few minutes of the third, were layed between the 20-yard lines.

Lowell 14--Merrillville 6

Lowell's passing attack finally clicked against Merrillville with Eugene Lehman catching both passes thrown to him for touchdowns. Colony kicked the extra points. The Devils opened the scoring in the second quarter, chalking up the first touchdown on three consecutive passes, the last being an 8-yard toss from Terry Miller to Eugene Lehman. The second half opened with Lehman completing a 77-yard drive by catching a 34-yard pass from Tom Sharkey.

Merrillville avoided a whitewash when Maihofer went 47-yards on an off tackle smash for a touchdown.

Lowell 13--Rensselaer 0

Lowell dampened Rensselaer's big Homecoming celebration by beating them 13-0. Sharkey opened the scoring in the second quarter with a five yard run around right end for a touchdown. Coloney kicked the extra point.

Lowell's second touchdown came midway in the third quarter after recovering a Bomber fumble on their 28. Sharkey flipped a 45-yard pass to Hegnauer for a first down on Rensselaer 13, then ran left end to the six-yard line, on the next play, however, Lowell was set back 15 yards for roughness after Coloney had carried the ball to the goal line. Sharkey then hit Lehman for 15 yards on a touchdown. Near the end of the game after Lowell stopped Rensselaer's last drive on the 23, Sharkey ran right end to the 30-yard line and Coloney took off through left tackle for 70 yards and a touchdown, which was nullified by a penalty.

Noll 33--Lowell 6

Hammond Noll scored 26 points in the first half, finally whipping Lowell 33-6. Mike Hodor, Noll right halfback, ended a 70 yard Warrior drive with a 36-yard sprint for a touchdown. A pass from Don Kasperan to John Dermody made it 12-0 in the first period.

Hodor scored again in the second quarter on a 13 yard dash around right end. Kasperan scored later on a seven yard plunge to culminate a 54 yard drive. Neither team could get started after the intermission, but Noll's Bill Huber finally scored on a 42 yard romp around left end.

Lowell's only score came with about 3 minutes left when Bob Coloney intercepted a pass and ran 90 yards for a touchdown.

Crown Point 29--Lowell 0

A 70 yard return of a Red Devil punt midway in the first quarter by Bullock was all the Bulldogs needed to hand Lowell its fourth loss. The bulldogs scored again at the start of the third period after a Lowell fumble on their own 20 yard line when fullback Ford threw a 7 yard touch down pass to Rosenbauer. Again in the third quarter Ford threw a touch down pass for 19 yards to Steuer for the finally touchdown. Lowell's running attack throughout the game was stymied as much by their own poor blocking as by the hard charging Crown Point line, an 18 yard run by Coloney representing the longest gain of the contest. With Sharkey out the entire last half with an injured shoulder, Lowell's passing attack fell to a new law, the Devils completing only 1 pass for 14 yards from Hegnauer to Lehman.

Lowell 7--East Gary 0

Lowell's Red Devils won their third game of the season against a big but green East Gary Edison team, 7-0, with Lowell's next year squad bearing the brunt of the contest. Lowell's touchdown came midway in the first quarter after a blocked punt on Edison's 31 yard line. Miller made 3 yards, Hegnauer went to the 19; then Harper went the rest of the way through center but fumbled. Hegnauer recovered behind the goal line. Coloney booted the extra point.

Lowell 12--Lafayette West Side 6

Lowell ended its season by a victory over powerful West Side Lafayette 12-6 which had lost only one game this season and that one to Lafayette Jeff. The victory belonged purely to the senior members of the squad although the junior and sophomore players added their bit to the win. Bob Coloney switched to left half and capped three years with his best performance as did right half Tom Sharkey. Hegnauer wasn't far behind turning in a 45 yard touchdown sprint after catching a pass, the best broken field running on the local field this season, Babe Beiers playing his last at center set a new record with thirteen tackless in one game. Notto be overlooked was the work of Bill Smith playing only part of the game, recovering a Lafayette fumble as they seemed to be head for a score.

Lowell received, to open the game but were held at the thirty although the Devils dominated the quarter holding West Side to a total of 9 yards. Lowell opened the scoring when Lowell took over on their own 39 yard line. A pass, Sharkey to Hegnauer for 18 yards, started. After two line plays, Coloney threw a pass to Longenecker for 10 yards; Coloney made 2 yards at tackle; Sharkey completed his third pass for 11 yards to Bob Harper to West Side's 20 yard line. Coloney then blasted through center for 20 yards and a touchdown.

Lafayette tied the game in the third quarter climaxing a 53 yard dive when Joe Friend scored on a 3 yard plunge. In the final minutes of the last quarter Coloney faded back and tossed a 19 yard pass to Hegnauer on West Side's 45 yard line who then shook off three would-be tacklers, reversed his field beautifully at the 30 yard line and went over unmolested.

BASKETBALL

Lowell 50 - DeMotte 29

The Devils opened the season by beating the DeMotte five on DeMotte's floor. The Lowell boys had little trouble in scoring, and Coach DuBois used all the first ten players.

Dick Norris led the scoring with 9 baskets and 2 free throws for 20 points. Jack Lind made 17 points.

Lowell 34 - Gary Edison 44

In the first home game and the second encounter of the season the Lowell boys were out-classed by the Gary team, as they went down to defeat 44-34. Dick Norris was high-point man with 10 points. Gene Lehman connected for 9 points.

Lowell 47-Hobart 36

Playing one of their best games of the season, in Hobart's small gym, the Devils came through with a fine win over the Hobart Quintet. Darrell Cavinder led the scoring with 12 points, Jack Lind got 9, as did Dick Norris. Bob Gross and Gene Lehman did a fine job of rebounding to hold Hobart's Gene Mack, 6-foot-4 center, to 3 points.

Lowell 44 - Hebron 37

The Devils came through with another victory as they blasted Hebron 44 to 37, on Hebron's home court. This was the Devil's third win in four games. Norris again led the scoring by sinking 15 points while Lind and Cavinder got 8 apiece.

Lowell 30 - Crown Point 31

The Lowell team lost a heart-breaker to the Bulldogs, in a riproaring, thrilling overtime battle. The team really hated to lose this game because of the keen rivalry between the two schools.

This was the third loss to Crown Point this year, two in football and this one, so it looks like the Devils will be all out to win when next they meet the Bulldogs. Norris led the scoring with 11 points.

Lowell 45 - Morocco 37

Lowell boys came back strong in the second half of their battle with Morocco when they pushed through 32 points. This rally beat Morocco after the Indians had held a 19 to 13 half-time lead.

Lehman led the scoring with 16 points, all made in the last half. Dick Norris followed with 14 points.

Holiday Tournament

The Devils lost a terrific battle to the Merrillville Pirates in the opening game of the Crown Point Invitational Tournament. Merrillville went on to win the tourney by defeating Crown Point Bulldogs and the Panthers from Griffith.

Bob Carroll received the medal for the best mental attitude and also led Devil scoring with 12 points.

Lowell 45 - Wheeler 47

The Devils were upset for their worst loss of the season when the Wheeler five triumphed in an overtime. The boys had plenty of trouble in the small gym and the fast tactics of the Wheeler boys gave more trouble.

The score was tied 42 all at the end of the regular time. Then the Wheeler quintet forged ahead to win in the final 3 minutes. Carroll, Norris, and Lehman led the Lowell scoring.

Lowell 28 - East Gary 35

Even though both Lowell and East Gary were minus one of their valuable players, the Edison team went on to outscore the Red Devils 35 to 28. On a night when the Devils couldn't hit, Carroll led the scoring with 8 points while Lehman and Gross sunk for 6 each.

Lowell 19 - Griffith 44

The Panthers proved to be too fast and cunning for the Lowell quintet as they strapped us 44-19. Besides the fact that the game was played on the Panthers' home floor, the Griffith boys seemed to do as they pleased, setting up their plays virtually uninterrupted by the Devils. Dick Norris led the Lowell scoring with 9 points.

Lowell 24 - Merrillville 52

Our boys didn't have it this game as the Pirates trounced them by a 28-point margin. Jack Lind, back in the lineup after missing 3 games because of the mumps, scored for 6 points. The Devils couldn't near Victory. Gene Lehman led the scoring with 8 points, while Norris collected 6.

Lowell 40 - Dyer 24

The Devils finally got back in the victory column after losing too many games, by handing Dyer its 10th defeat in a row. The game was played on Dyer's floor.

Set shots by Norris and the fine reboundery of Lehman made them top scorers of that game, each taking 10 points. Lind scored 8 points.

Lowell 34 - Gary Wirt 24

In a rough and tumble contest the Red Devils upset a good team in a well played game. The Lowell boys held Jim Newton, Gary Wirt's hot shot, to six points. Dick Norris, Bob Carroll and Jack Lind led the Lowell scoring.

Lowell 32 - Kouts 34

Although the Devils had a 20 to 12 lead at half time, they blew their lead to the Mustang's and were edged to the losing side in the last few minutes of play. The game was played in Kout's fine gym. Jack Lind and Carroll each sunk 8 points.

Lowell 49 - Crown Point 41

The Devils avenged their earlier 1 point loss to Crown Point by a hard, fast game in which the Devils set back the Bulldogs 49-41. The Lowell boys gave a keen exhibition of inside blocks and fast breaks and were never headed by the Bulldogs. Darrell Cavinder scored 15 points as he played a beautiful game. Dick Norris scored 14 points.

Lowell 30 - Portage 47

The Portage Indians put on their usual fine ball-handling game as they handed the Devils their tenth defeat. Portage led by only 4 points at half time but came back strong in the last half.

Cavinder led the Lowell scoring with 5 baskets and 2 free throws for 12 points. The Lowell boys couldn't stop Portage's Wilson as he gathered 6 baskets and 4 free throws for 16 points. Watch these Indians next year; they are losing only one senior.

Lowell 33 - Merrillville 41

The Pirates did it again as they downed our Devils for the third time this season for their 21st victory without a loss. The first half was very close with the Pirates sinking a free throw just before half time to take an 18 to 17 lead.

Merrillville widened the margin in the third quarter and played even with Lowell in the final stanza. Norris and Lehman led the scoring with 12 and 10 points, respectively.

SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT

Lowell 41 - Noll 36

The Devils supposedly being a "dark horse" of the sectional, gave highly regarded Noll Central a licking. Jack Lind led the scoring with 17 point. Dick Norris scored 10 points. Gene Lehman did a fine job of rebounding.

Central's fast break bothered the Devils in the first half but the latter were not fcoled for long since they went on to the first victory of the Hammond Sectionals.

Lowell 35 - Hammond High 37

The Devils almost pulled the surprise of the sectional Wednesday night when they kept right up with the highly touted Hammond Wildcats.

Although leading at the end of the first quarter 9-8, the Lowell five were losing 17-19 and 27-29 at the end of the half and third period, respectively.

Norris tied the score 35 to 35 with 2 minutes to go when the Wildcats came through with a basket and 2 free throws.

Lowell boys played a fine game and finished the season with a 9 win and 11 loss record. Norris led in the Hammond game by scoring 12 points.

The Devils, losing only one of the first string, Jack Lind, should come back with a strong team next year.

The cross country boys had two meets, both with Dyer. Those who ran are: Jack Lind, Dick Jackson, Paul Williams, Don Spoerner, Francis Schrieber. Dyer was victorious in the mile grinds.

CHEERLEADING

Go Lowell Go!
Go Lowell Go!
Swash 'em, bust 'em
That's our custom,
Go Lowell Go!

When cheerleaders were chosen this year, the Senior girls took the spotlight. Pat Gross and Betty Duncan took their positions for the first time with Barbara Uther, re-elected from last year, and "Phyl" Sutton, a veteran of three years.

Charlotte McCarty, sophomore, was re-elected to the second team as was Audrey Childress, freshman, a cheerleader from grade school.

The cheering efforts of the girls brought forth much enthusiasm from the student body which helped spur our boys to victories.

The second team cheerleaders got new red sweaters and black skirts mid-season.

Charlotte and Audrey cheer for the second team games and Phyllis, Pat, Betty and Barbara cheer for the first team.

Barbara, Pat, and Betty cheered for the holiday tourney game with Merrillville on January 2. They also cheered for the team at the sectionals held in Hammond, February 25, when we played Hammond Noll and again when we played Hammond High who defeated us that evening.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 5.5 million to 7.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's services. The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently in their own homes; older people should be able to access the services they need; and older people should be able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives for the future of older people's services. These include: to ensure that older people have access to the services they need; to ensure that older people are able to live independently in their own homes; to ensure that older people are able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives; and to ensure that older people are able to access the services they need.

SENIOR FAREWELL

As is inevitable, to all things there must come on end.

For some of us it is a time to rejoice, others to be sad.

*But to all of us, as to all of you, parting must surely be a time for reflection of deeds a accomplished, teachings learned, friendships made,
and honors earned.*

As with the best in education, our school upon the hill is a symbol of life set before us to use in order to reach the top. As we have climbed for this goal in school we have gained steps for which we have no regrets.

We hope we've earned the respect of all of you who carry on to keep our school life clean, endowed with all that is good in health, fellowship and education.

We toast the faculty, students and friends, and say, "Forewell, little school on the hill."

--Seniors of '46

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 2000). The prevalence of mental health problems in the United Kingdom is estimated to be 10% (Mental Health Foundation 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (2000) has set out a strategy for mental health care, which aims to improve the lives of people with mental health problems and to reduce the burden of mental illness on society. The strategy is based on three main principles: (1) to promote the recovery of people with mental health problems; (2) to provide a range of services to meet the needs of people with mental health problems; and (3) to ensure that people with mental health problems are treated with respect and dignity.

The strategy is based on the following assumptions: (1) that people with mental health problems are individuals with unique experiences and needs; (2) that people with mental health problems are capable of recovery; (3) that people with mental health problems should be treated with respect and dignity; and (4) that people with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care and treatment.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1 million (Office for National Statistics 1999). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 6.5 million by 2011, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 3.5 million (Office for National Statistics 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop services to meet the needs of older people, and a number of initiatives have been developed to address this need. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on three main principles: (1) to ensure that older people have the opportunity to live independently and actively; (2) to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need; and (3) to ensure that older people are treated with respect and dignity.

The strategy is based on the following assumptions: (1) that older people are a diverse group with different needs and interests; (2) that older people should be able to live independently and actively; (3) that older people should have access to the services and support they need; and (4) that older people should be treated with respect and dignity. The strategy sets out a number of key objectives, including: to improve the health and well-being of older people; to improve the quality of life of older people; to improve the social and economic participation of older people; and to improve the protection of older people.

The strategy also sets out a number of key actions, including: to improve the health and well-being of older people; to improve the quality of life of older people; to improve the social and economic participation of older people; and to improve the protection of older people. The strategy is a framework for action, and it is up to local authorities and other service providers to develop and implement the actions that are needed to meet the needs of older people.
